A professional welcome. A reassuring presence.

Front-of-house security that supports the member experience while responding to the changing needs of busy London workplaces.

01 The requirement

Flexible workspaces need a welcoming arrival alongside clear access arrangements. Central London locations also need a response when events outside the building affect members, staff or visitors.

02 Our response

Servis provides SIA-licensed officers across multiple coworking locations, combining front-of-house duties with security. Out-of-hours cover and additional officers at short notice support changing site requirements, including disruption associated with nearby demonstrations.

03 The value

A relationship established in 2021, supported by consistent site presence, communication and responsive management across multiple Central London workplaces.
