Protecting the project. Preparing the environment.

Coordinated security and cleaning supporting a college development and the client's wider estate.

01 The requirement

Attempted unauthorised access to a college development created an immediate security concern during construction. Regent Global needed to protect the works while maintaining suitable conditions for the build programme.

02 Our response

Servis deployed security officers to secure the site and support the project team. Cleaning operatives maintained working areas through the construction stages, with cleaning support also provided across multiple Regent Global sites.

03 The value

The works remained protected and construction proceeded to schedule. Servis continued to support the project across security and cleaning, giving the client one coordinated service relationship.
